CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET. CHICAGO, Nov. 3 .- | Special Telegram to the BER. J-The market opened weak with hist rates in December on a basis of 75% of and May on a bosis of 823cc. The market dropped to 85c for December and 81%c for May. Buying by privilege traders steadied values and during the last hour or two of the long session strong investment buying of November, December and May imparted a much better tone to the situation. December advanced to 751cc and May to 821cc 821cc, but the last quotations of the morning were 3600 Mc lower. There was lively selling of May fown to 82c, at which apparently unlimited buying orders were struck. A great deal of May property was traded in at about 82c. The bears are not disposed to indulge themselves in free selling at these prices and the majority of the bulls are either holding off "for a few days" or else gently nibbling. Corn was firm in all positions to-day and a generally steady, healthy tone was observable. There were but few outside orders trading on local speculative account was to a very liberal aggregate amount, and a good degree of interest was shown in the deal all through. Just at the opening prices were a trifle unsettled and starting sales were at 1400 Me below Monday's closing figures. Undergood buying the market quickly recovered and a steady advance was made of %c. December selling up from 37% to 3% and May from 42% to 43%c at 43%c on the split. The improvement was pretty well maintained until shortly before the close, when there some realizing and prices sagged fractionally. Buying quotations at the close of the regular session, stood at 37%c for December, 38c for January and 42%c for May, being an actual improvement of %@%c. Fleming & Boyton were probably the largest individual buyers here to-day. The weather for the next thirty days will have considerable effect upon the near future of the market. If it should continue fine and dry the business shelling new corn will be actively prosecuted and the receipts be swelled thereby, while the consumption will be reduced to the minimum, but if it should turn wet and cold the opposite of these conditions would exist. May from 42% to 43%c at 43%c on the split. the opposite of these conditions would exist. The estimates for to-morrow are 580 cars, but as this includes inspection for forty-eight hours it is not a large run. Oats were dull but firm in the speculative market and fluctuations in prices very slight, 1 o'clock closings being about the same as those of last Monday. Provisions were quiet but steady this morning. The registrar's statement of stock on the last day of the month showed a heavy reduction during October, particularly in lard, but the trade was not greatly surprised, as stocks usually shrink at a rapid rate the last month of the summer packing season. Nevertheless a shrink at a rapid rate the last month of the summer packing season. Nevertheless a brisk inquiry for the product sprung up, and later prices advanced sharply on heavy buying for account. Local dealers who were known to be shert of pork and troubles at the stock yards made the shorts unevsy, and they broke for cover. December pork advanced from $9.1754 to $9.40, and January from $10.10 to $10.35. January ribs climbed from $5.15 to $5.1714, and lard went up 714(40 1234c, though there was only light trading in that article. The 1 o'clock range was 234(40.5c) that article. The 1 o'clock range was 25 oc5 away from the best prices brought for pork and meats, but the market was quoted

2:30 p. m.—The afternoon markets were steady and without special feature. Wheat and pork looked a little easier, but no decline of moment occurred. CURB, 2:40 p. m.—Privileges on December wheat, 74%@74%c and 75%@75%c.

A lot of 131 Texas cattle averaging 234 lbs sold lot of 131 Texas cattle averaging 234 bs sold at $5,10 per cwt. Some left over Wyonings, averaging 1127 lbs, sold to Armour for $2,75 and some fair to good wintered Texans sold at $2.85663.25.
